

Earth Day Celebration!

Wolf Creek National Fish Hatchery Outreach Event Series

Come out for a day centered on learning more about how to keep our Earth clean, green and healthy!

WHAT: Bring your family and friends and enjoy the great outdoors at Wolf Creek National Fish Hatchery by celebrating Earth Day! There will be a limited number of free tree seedlings to give away, and there will also be different agency booths on hand for participants to learn more about the many organizations that go into protecting our natural resources. We'll also offer guided hikes and a variety of speakers presenting on several interesting and informative topics (see back for schedule). Make a day of it with the entire family by touring the hatchery and learning more about how you can do your part to protect our wonderful outdoors!
