Wolf Creek National Fish Hatchery Workshop Series

Wolf Creek National Fish Hatchery is proud to sponsor educational workshops that help our community learn more about our incredible natural heritage. For information on other programs at the hatchery, or how you can be involved as a volunteer, please contact us!

WHAT: Leopold Education Project (LEP) Project

The LEP curriculum, Lessons in Land Ethic, is an innovative, interdisciplinary conservation ethics curriculum targeted for grades 6 – 12. The LEP increases student’s awareness of the land and informs them of how to make responsible choices for our planet, while simultaneously teaching important social, collaborative and critical thinking skills. The LEP is unique in that it uses a classic environmental literary work, Leopold’s A Sand County Almanac, to reach students with a conservation message that strives to instill an appreciation for the land community.
